Props.

Hundreds of imitations—dangerous to fabric and hands—are tugging away at the props, which have put and still hold Pyle's Pearline in its present enviable position. It's the same—pure—effective—harmless—a necessity in millions of homes. These imitators take names ending in INE—no doubt—public their goods from house to house—claim them to be "Pearline"—"same as Pearline," or "good as Pearline." Beware of them—one wash may ruin your clothes. Their symbols alone should denounce them—evidently they do—for the consumption of Pearline increases each day. It does away with the drudgery of women's hardest work.

"WHAT MEDICINES ARE MOST CALLED FOR?"

asked the reporter of an old druggist.

"Dr. Pierce's preparations," he replied. "They are put up by a physician of great skill and experience and are positively reliable, and will cure a positive guarantee, that they are what they purport to be. They are not 'patent' medicines, but the well-tested, favorite prescriptions of an experienced and skilful physician. His 'Favorite Prescription,' for all those chronic weaknesses, nervous and other derangements peculiar to women, is used with unfailing success. It cures weak back, bearing-down sensations, irregularities and weaknesses incident to the sex, and being the most perfect of tonic sedatives builds up and strengthens the entire system. Besides, it is sold by us under the manufacturers' guarantee of satisfaction in every case, or the money paid for it is promptly refunded. The demand for it is constant, and I am convinced with cures of cases cured by it," concluded the druggist, as he left the customer to wait upon a lady who called for the popular medicine.

Returning after a few moments, the requisite wishes of the gentle consulted, "the number of unscrupulous and value, so-called, 'blood medicines' in logics; but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery outsells them all and is to the only blood-purifier, out of the many which I am obliged to keep upon my shelves, that is guaranteed by health or cure in all cases of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it is refunded."

"In the line of Pills" inquired the old gentleman, "the little sugar-coated 'Pellets' put up by Dr. Pierce lead all others, both in amount of sales and the general satisfaction they give my customers." At this point the interview was cut short by the appearance of more customers for the wonderful medicines of Dr. Pierce.
